Mazel Tov!

With gratitude to Hashem, we celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of Chabad of RM!

Seventy-five years ago, the Rebbe laid out a mission statement which serves as a compass for living as Jews today: love of G-d, love of the Torah and love of the Jewish people are all part of one love. When we strengthen one love we strengthen them all; when one of those loves needs attention, they all do.

Thirty years ago, Chabad was not nearly as ubiquitous around the globe as it is now. And each Chabad center is a welcoming address: a beacon, a lighthouse. Because the warmth, and wisdom of Torah is the inheritance of the Jewish people. Every Jew. Everywhere.

From a lone house on a dirt road, Chabad of RM, like Chabad everywhere, became that lighthouse for a meal (BBQ's, Kiddush, Holidays), a quest for knowledge (Talmud, Tanya, Torah classes) ladders of the soul (Rabbi Benny's Yom Kippur davening, for starters). For third-generation desert rats (if you think that's pejorative, you obviously don't live here) to snowbirds, to snowflakes, ChabadRM is that address.

From cradle (baby-naming, bris) to grave (the crucial work of the Chevra Kadisha) and everything in between, we are there as the lighthouse for those life-affirming, personal moments when we gather as a community.

Yet all these vital necessities pale when measured against our young people. Dedicated on the anguish of our father Abraham who in his childless nineties cried "what is this all worth if I have no children?" reiterated as our promise at Sinai four hundred years later "our children guarantee our future" the clarion of the Rebbe's message, the promise of the Jewish people has ALWAYS been the children.

Over these three decades, our Chabad House was home and playground for children of all ages. Now those first children, all grown up, bring their children to Ckids. And we see them as Chabad's grandchildren.

We have no time for getting sentimental; there is too much work to be done. The five acres of prime real estate that Chabad RM owns must be turned into an oasis for Jewish children, and children at heart, to learn their inheritance and to love it. And every day we don't have the center to draw the children in, we are at risk of losing a child. G-d forbid. We need to build it NOW!!

So we look to the future with growing courage and confidence because we know that every challenge is growth coming of age.

Our thirty-year history celebrates the past.
Our thirty-year history points to the future.

To everyone who has walked through the doors of Chabad, wrote checks, volunteered, participated, enjoyed a Shabbat meal, learned Torah, celebrated with us, or simply offered a kind word: thank you. You are this journey.

Thank you for the past and thank you for the future. May Hashem finally grant our beloved people the coming of Mashiach, the promise of peace on earth.

Rabbi & Chaya Posner & The Chabad of Rancho Mirage Family

PS If you would like to see the site plan for the center please contact Rabbi.

This calendar is dedicated TO THE REBBE

This calendar, along with all of Chabad of Rancho Mirage, is dedicated to the Rebbe who's unmitigated love, unparalleled devotion and profound and expansive insight continues to engage and transform the Jewish world and by extension all people.

THE WARMTH AND WISDOM OF TORAH IS THE INHERITANCE OF THE JEWISH PEOPLE. EVERY JEW. EVERYWHERE.

HOW TO USE THIS CALENDAR

GREGORIAN & HEBREW DATES

Each day on our calendar includes both the Gregorian and the corresponding Hebrew date.

THE HEBREW CALENDAR IS LUNAR-BASED

The Jewish calendar follows the lunar cycle, so Jewish holidays fall on different Gregorian dates each year.

THE JEWISH DAY BEGINS AT SUNSET

In Judaism, a new day begins at sunset, rather than at midnight.

"YOM TOV" REFERS TO MAJOR HOLIDAYS

Yom Tov means a "good day" and refers to the major Jewish holidays. Shabbos, Jewish holidays and Rosh Chodesh dates are highlighted and intermediate days of holidays appear in a lighter shade.

HOLIDAY & CANDLE-LIGHTING TIMES

Local candle-lighting and ending times are listed to help you observe Shabbos and holidays at the proper times. Weeks when we bless the new Jewish month are noted.

WHAT IS CHABAD?

With over 3,500 centers in all 50 states and in more than half the world's countries, Chabad's core principle is that the love of G-d, the love of the Torah and the love of the Jewish people are all part of one love. When we strengthen one love we strengthen all.

All ages, all backgrounds, all interests will find a warm welcome, timeless wisdom and a quest for integrity in our daily lives with a healthy dose of self-deprecating humor.

SHABBAT

DISCONNECT TO CONNECT

WHAT SHABBAT IS

Shabbat is Judaism's weekly sanctuary in time—a day set apart from the ordinary work of the week. Far from being simply a day of restriction, it creates freedom to be present: to rest, reflect, celebrate, and reconnect with family, community, faith, and ourselves.

WHAT JUDAISM UNDERSTOOD BEFORE THE SMARTPHONE

Science is catching up to an ancient truth: constant interruption fragments attention, increases stress, and weakens real presence. Shabbat offers a weekly opportunity to step away from the pressures of the week and rediscover clarity, joy, stillness, and connection.

TRADITIONS OF THE TABLE

The Shabbat table transforms an ordinary meal into sacred time. Kiddush sanctifies the day over wine, and the table becomes a place of song, Torah, hospitality, and conversation.

Shabbat is the original digital detox.

*For six days we change the world.
On Shabbat, we stop changing it long enough to appreciate it.*

CANDLE BLESSING

Baruch atah A-donai, Elo-beinu Melech ha-olam, asher kid'shanu b'mitzvotav v'tzivanu lebadlik ner shel Shabbat kodesh.

THE RHYTHM OF SHABBAT

FRIDAY NIGHT

Candles are lit before sunset. We welcome Shabbat with Kabbalat Shabbat, Kiddush over wine, challah, and a festive meal.

SHABBAT MORNING

We gather at shul for morning prayers, the weekly Torah reading and Mussaf, followed by Kiddush and community.

SHABBAT DAY

After lunch comes time for rest, study, family and community. Later are Minchah, the afternoon prayer, and Seudah Shlishit, the traditional third Shabbat meal.

SATURDAY NIGHT

Shabbat concludes with Havdalah—wine, fragrant spices, and a braided flame—carrying the light into the new week.

DID YOU KNOW?

SHABBAT

FUN FACTS

DID YOU KNOW?

1. WHAT MAKES TIME HOLY?

Judaism did not only make places holy. Shabbat, holidays, candle lighting and the Jewish calendar turn time itself into something sacred—something we enter, celebrate and protect.

2. WHY IS A MINYAN TEN?

The Torah refers to ten people as an assembly. From this, our Sages teach that ten are needed when G-d is sanctified publicly—such as for Kaddish, Kedushah, Barchu and the public Torah reading.

3. WHY DO JEWISH PRAYERS SAY "WE" INSTEAD OF ONLY "I"?

Many central prayers are written in the plural. Even when praying alone, we remember that our individual needs are part of a larger Jewish people.

4. WHY DOES JUDAISM REPEAT SO MUCH?

We repeat the Shema, the Torah reading cycle, holidays, blessings and stories not because nothing changes—but because we change. The same words can meet a different person each year.

5. WHY DOES A JEWISH DAY BEGIN AT NIGHT?

In the Torah's account of creation, evening comes before morning. That is why the Jewish day begins at nightfall rather than at midnight.

Dental Health Month

6. WHY DOES THE TORAH BEGIN WITH BET?

The Torah begins with Bet, the second Hebrew letter. One explanation is that Bet is also the first letter of bracha—blessing. Torah begins with a blessing.

7. WHY DO WE USE A YAD TO READ TORAH?

The Torah's sacred parchment is not touched directly while reading. Instead, the reader follows the words with a yad—literally, a "hand."

8. WHY DOES THE JEWISH CALENDAR ADD A WHOLE MONTH?

Instead of adding one leap day, the Jewish calendar adds an entire month—Adar II. This happens 7 times in every 19-year cycle, roughly every three or four years, helping keep Passover in the spring.

9. WHY IS THE HAVDALAH CANDLE BRAIDED?

Havdalah traditionally uses a candle with multiple wicks because the blessing speaks of the "illuminations of fire" in the plural—also an allusion to the different colors within a flame.

10. WHY ARE GIFTS AND DONATIONS OFTEN $18, $36 OR $180?

The Hebrew word chai—"life"—has the numerical value 18. Giving in multiples of 18 adds a symbolic wish for life and blessing—but the most important thing is simply to give.

PESACH

— From Freedom to Redemption —

Passover begins with the Exodus from Egypt, but its message lives on in every generation. At the Seder we relive the journey from slavery to freedom, and as the holiday closes, Moshiach's Seudah turns our eyes toward the ultimate redemption.

THE FOUR QUESTIONS

*Is Questioning Un-Jewish?
Quite the Opposite.*

The Passover Seder is structured around questions. The Talmud preserves disagreements rather than erasing them.

Jewish learning assumes that serious questions can deepen faith rather than threaten it.

The Seder invites children and adults alike to ask, explore, and engage.

1 The Seder

The Seder retells the Exodus through 15 ordered steps, symbolic foods, four cups of wine, and the questions that keep the story alive in every generation.

2 Shmura Matzah

Shmura means "guarded." This special handmade round matzah is carefully watched from harvest to baking to protect it from becoming chametz, and it is traditionally used at the Seder.

3 Sell Your Chametz

Jewish law prohibits owning chametz on Passover. Any chametz you will not use should be sold before the holiday.

Must be sold by

4 Moshiach's Seudah

On the final day of Passover, a special festive meal connects the redemption from Egypt with the future redemption. It is a time for matzah, wine, song, and hope.

THINK YOU KNOW PASSOVER?

Same Ingredients, Different Outcome

Matzah and chametz are both made with essentially the same ingredients. The difference is what happens after flour and water meet. Jewish law traditionally uses an 18-minute benchmark in guarding matzah dough from becoming chametz.

The Haggadah Is an Answer

The Four Questions don't just begin a children's ritual. They launch the telling of the Exodus — the rest of the Haggadah becomes the answer.

KOSHER:

More Than What's on the Menu

A 3,300-year-old system that turns eating into an act of Jewish identity.

HOLY COW

You are what you eat— but what does that make you?

What if kosher was never really only about the food? Kashrut brings Jewish awareness into eating. It guides what we eat, how it is prepared, and which foods may share the same table. Judaism places holiness not only in the synagogue, but in the kitchen.

Every step—from choosing ingredients to cooking and serving—becomes a chance to eat with intention.

5 THINGS TO KNOW

KOSHER DIETARY LAWS

Kosher isn't a blessing by a rabbi. It means food meets Jewish law.

MORE THAN INGREDIENTS

Kosher involves ingredients, utensils, preparation, and serving.

MEAT & DAIRY STAY SEPARATE

They are not cooked or eaten together, and separate dishes and cookware are used.

PAREVE IS THE BRIDGE

Foods that are neither meat nor dairy—like most fruits, vegetables, grains, eggs, and fish—can usually be eaten with either.

KOSHER ELEVATES EATING

It is not just about food. Kashrut sanctifies the meal, the food, and the person eating it.

DID YOU KNOW?

Kosher salt got its name from the koshering process used to draw blood from meat—not because the salt itself is inherently “more kosher.”

A hechsher is the kosher certification mark that helps identify products that meet kosher standards.

GIMMEL TAMMUZ

The Rebbe's Yartzeit

— o —

A yartzeit marks the anniversary of a person's passing—but Jewish tradition teaches that a righteous person's life continues through the teachings, values, and actions they inspired.

— o —

Rabbi Menachem M. Schneerson, the Lubavitcher Rebbe, passed away on Gimmel Tammuz, 5754 — June 12, 1994.

His influence continues through thousands of Chabad centers and the countless Jewish lives transformed by his teachings and vision.

*The question is not only,
“What did the Rebbe accomplish?”
It is, “What can I do because of what the Rebbe taught?”*

"If I forget you, Jerusalem, let my right hand forget its skill." — Psalms 137:5

אם אֶשְׁכַּחךְ יְרוּשָׁלַיִם תִּשְׁכַּח יְמִינִי

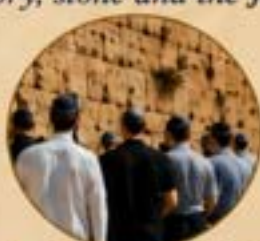

Jerusalem— The City Jews Carry With Them

She is more than a place. She lives in Torah, prayer, memory, stone and the Jewish heart.

Why Jerusalem?

Our connection to Jerusalem begins in Torah. HaShem promised the Land of Israel to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and their descendants. King David made Jerusalem the capital, and King Solomon built the Holy Temple there. From that time forward, Jerusalem became the center of worship, pilgrimage, and Jewish national life—a heart that has never stopped beating.

She Came With Us

Even in exile, Jews never left Jerusalem behind. No matter where we are, we turn toward her in prayer. At the Passover Seder and at the close of Yom Kippur, we say "Next Year in Jerusalem." And we leave a small, unfinished area in the home as a quiet reminder that Jerusalem and the Temple are always part of our lives.

One Place, Many Layers

Jewish tradition connects Jerusalem and Mount Moriah with Abraham and Isaac, Jacob's dream, the First and Second Temples, and centuries of Jewish yearning. Jerusalem is not simply a city—she is a living, breathing presence in Jewish memory and hope, carrying the story of our people through every generation.

The Stones Speak

Archaeology continues to uncover Jerusalem's Jewish past through coins, seals, inscriptions, ritual baths, walls and pilgrimage roads. In Jerusalem, history is not only remembered — it is unearthed.

We remember Jerusalem.
Jerusalem remembers us.

Minted nearly 2,000 years ago during the Jewish revolt against Rome.

FRONT INSCRIPTION:
"Shekel
of Israel"

REVERSE INSCRIPTION:
"Jerusalem
the Holy"

The inscriptions are still legible nearly 2,000 years later.

Think You Know Jerusalem?

70 Names

Jewish tradition speaks of 70 names for Jerusalem. Each name reveals another facet of her identity, reflecting a different dimension of her meaning and holiness in the Jewish soul.

Jerusalem of Gold / Her Name

Jerusalem's golden glow comes from the Jerusalem stone that builds her walls and houses. Jewish tradition links her name to Yireh—"The Lord Will Provide"—and to Shalem—"wholeness and peace."

Not the Temple Wall

The Western Wall was not the wall of the Temple building itself. It is part of the ancient retaining structure that supported the Temple Mount, surrounding the sacred area where the Temples stood.

Honoring a Jewish Soul

How Judaism surrounds loss with dignity, prayer, memory and love

"Judaism does not tell us not to grieve. It teaches us how to grieve."

Chevra Kadisha

Chevra Kadisha means 'Sacred Society.' Their holy work is the final act of kindness: caring for the deceased with taharah, modesty, dignity and respect. This is called chesed shel emet — a true kindness that can never be repaid.

What Kaddish Means

Kaddish is not a prayer about death. It magnifies and sanctifies G-d's name. In a time of loss, a Jew responds with faith, prayer and community. Kaddish is recited with a minyan during mourning and again each year on the yahrzeit.

The Jewish Journey of Mourning

Passing

Care for the deceased begins

Burial

The final act of dignity

Shiva

Seven days of comfort and remembrance

Shloshim

Thirty days of gradual return

Yahrzeit

A yearly day of memory, prayer and light

Did You Know?

- A shomer stays with the deceased until burial.
- Stones placed on a grave show remembrance and a visit.
- A yahrzeit candle traditionally burns for 24 hours.
